

OBESITY TRENDS IN EUROPE AND OBESITY CONTROL POLICIES

Seminar – Professor Belgin Unal
Escuela Nacional de Sanidad (ISCIII) – Madrid, 21 June 2017

This seminar will provide a good opportunity to develop mutual collaboration between the Spanish and Turkish public health scientists through research and education.

Speaker: Prof. Belgin Unal (Department of Public Health, Faculty of Medicine, University of Dokuz Eylul)

Moderator: Prof. Rafael Gabriel (Department of International Health, Escuela Nacional de Sanidad, Instituto de Salud Carlos III)

Location: Escuela Nacional de Sanidad, Instituto de Salud Carlos III

Time: 10:00

The seminar also includes discussions on potential areas of collaboration between both institutions.

Brief Curriculum Vitae – Prof. Belgin Unal

MD, at the Ege University Faculty of Medicine, Izmir, Turkey.

MPH, at The Hebrew University Braun School of Public Health and Community Medicine, Jerusalem, Israel.

PhD, at the Department of Public Health in Liverpool University.

Currently is Professor in Public Health at the Department of Public Health, Faculty of Medicine, University of Dokuz Eylul, Izmir, Turkey, and Member of the Scientific Advisory Committee of The Scientific and Technological Research Council of Turkey (TÜBİTAK), in Ankara, Turkey.

Her main research topic is about Modeling Coronary Heart Disease Trends and she is strongly committed to ongoing research on noncommunicable disease epidemiology and control.

